PTO play day Saturday

By Mary Orr

The Heyburn Elementary PTO has organized a Bounce Into Summer Carnival this weekend.

The carnival is from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday at the Heyburn playground.

Activities include bouncy houses, a basketball shootout, 4-square and carnival games with chances to win live goldfish, stuffed animals and other prizes. Various concessions will be available for purchase including snow cones, cotton candy, hot dogs, chips and water.

A $10 wristband allows children to play all games unlimited and includes a hot dog, chips, water and a choice of cotton candy, snow cone or popcorn. The $5 package includes the meal and 15 game tickets. Games take between one and three tickets to play. Tickets cost 25¢ each or $5 for 25 tickets.

If it rains the carnival will be moved to the gym.

Money raised from the event will go to buy and maintain the Accelerated Reading program. The web based program encourages elementary children to do extra-curricular reading. The program will cost approximately $2,000 for initial startup and about $1,300 to maintain each year.

Four deploy to Afghanistan

They include 1st Lt. Kyle Payne, 24, SPC Cameron Lounsbury, 20, and 1st Lt. Joe LaPlante, 24, of the Second Stryker Brigade from Fort Lewis, Wash., and Sgt. Rodney Dickenson, 26.

They will serve just more than nine months overseas.

Kyle is the son of Doug and Kristi Payne, Cameron is the son of Dirk and Sharon Lounsbury and Joe is the son of Mike LaPlante and Cathy Britschgi. Rodney is the son of Brenda and Bryan Dickenson.

SMILE A WHILE

The salesman was selling an old, beat-up car to a well-dressed man who turned out to be vice president of a bank. "Why would you want this bomb?" the salesman asked. "I have five teenagers at home," the man replied. "No matter how many vehicles I buy, I never have anything to drive. This car is such an embarrassment, none of my kids would be caught dead in it."

My grandson was visiting one day when he asked, "Grandma, do you know how you and God are alike?" I mentally polished my halo while I asked, "No, how are we alike?" "You're both old," he replied.

EPA to Conduct Cleanup Action at the Avery Landing Superfund Site

The Avery Landing Superfund Site served as a railroad facility for the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, and Pacific Railroad from 1907 until 1977. The U.S. EPA, the State of Idaho, and others investigated the Site and found contamination in sub-surface soil, groundwater, sediment, and surface water. The contamination mostly comes from historical railroad maintenance and refueling operations at the Site.

EPA prepared a cleanup plan for the Site and released it for public review and comment in January 2011. We considered all comments and, in mid-2011, selected a cleanup action for the Avery Landing Site.

We expect the cleanup action to start in late May 2012, and to be completed by late Fall 2012. EPA will work with Potlatch and other property owners to clean up the Site.

As part of the cleanup, an estimated 58,000 cubic yards of contaminated material will be excavated and transported off-site for disposal. The Site will then be backfilled with clean material. The goal is to restore the Site, as closely as possible, to its original condition.

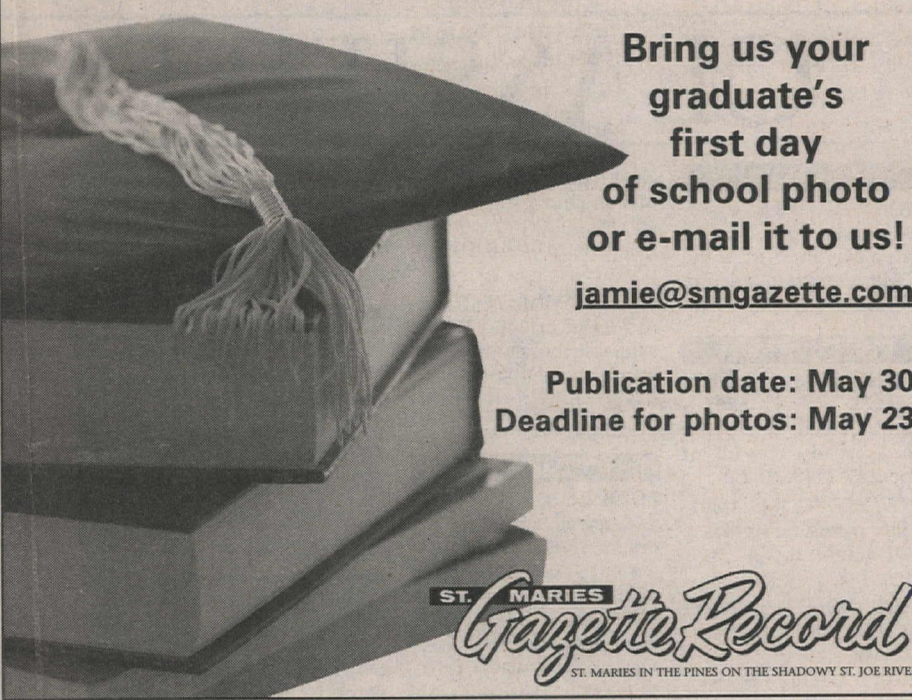

A portion of the cleanup action includes removing and rebuilding Highway 50. A temporary bypass will be constructed to allow traffic to move through the Site. However, there still may be some delays because of cleanup activities.

If you want more information about the Avery Landing cleanup effort, please contact Earl Liverman with the EPA at 208-664-4858 or Terry Cundy with Potlatch at 208-883-1668.

Additional information is also available at the Avery Community Center/Library, 10 Depot Road, Avery, Idaho; or at the US EPA Coeur d'Alene office, 1910 Northwest Boulevard, Suite 208, Coeur d'Alene, ID.

TTY users may call the Federal Relay Service at 800-877-8339 and give the operator Earl Liverman's phone number.

Area post offices survive cut

By Summer Crosby

Post offices in Tensed, DeSmet, Avery and Calder will not close.

A new proposal, however, proposes to cut hours of operation.

In an effort to reduce costs, the U.S. Postal Service originally planned to close 3,700 rural post offices across the United States. Under the new initiative, the USPS plans to shorten operating hours for 13,700 offices.

The new strategy would be implemented over two years and would not be completed until September 2014. Once completed, however, USPS estimates savings of a half billion dollars annually, according to the press release.

Ernie Swanson, corporate communication specialist for USPS, said some post office hours may change within six to eight months. The USPS will file the change with the Postal Regulatory Commission in Washington D.C. by the end of the month.

"They'll review it and get public input," Mr. Swanson said, "and from there they'll make a decision. Its non-binding, but we generally listen to what they come up with. Then, if we do proceed with this plan we go back into the communities and have another set of public meetings to get input to see if the new adjusted hours will work for the people in the communities."

Post offices in Tensed and DeSmet would be open four hours a day as opposed to eight hours a day. The Fernwood post office would drop from eight hours to six hours. Offices in Avery and Calder would be open for four hours a day instead of six.

Mr. Swanson says the revised proposal allows the post offices to remain open, but will also allow the USPS to cut costs. He said the majority of comments received were opposed to the closure of post offices.

"We gathered a lot of input from customers who didn't want their post office to close. In a rural community it's more than just a place to pick up your mail. People gather there in the mornings and they see their neighbors. We realize that's not our role, but it is important," Mr. Swanson said.

The Postal Service reported a $9 billion loss last year.

One of the major factors for declining revenue is people have turned to emails instead of writing letters, according to Mr. Swanson, and pay bills online.

In 2006, USPS delivered 213 billion pieces of mail. Last year, only 70 billion pieces of mail were delivered.

Lawsuit stayed pending trial

By Summer Crosby

A lawsuit filed against the parents of Joe Herrera has been temporarily stayed.

Judge Fred Gibler ruled proceedings in the civil suit, filed by Suzie Comack and James Comack, will be put on hold until after the criminal case against Herrera is settled.

Stefanie Comack died from a gunshot wound to the head Christmas Day. Herrera has been charged with second-degree murder in connection to her death.

In the civil suit, the Comacks charge that Jerrilynn Herrera and Jesse Herrera, Joe Herrera's parents, are responsible for their daughter's death.

Papers filed in January by the Comacks charge the Herreras were negligent in the ownership and care of their pistol, and should have known their son had violent tendencies and should not have allowed him access to their firearms.

Judge Gibler said proceedings for the suit will be put on hold until Sept. 1 to avoid confusion that may arise between the civil suit and criminal case.

Prior to putting the case on hold, Judge Gibler approved another motion by the Comacks attorney to add Joe Herrera as a party responsible in the case.

The trial for Joe Herrera has been scheduled for Aug. 14. He has pleaded not guilty in the case and says the shooting was an accident.
